

Learning Objectives

In this module we will learn using two examples

- ❖ How an informal description of a problem is analyzed to obtain a more formal specification of requirements.
- ❖ How various techniques learnt in the rest of the modules of this course are integrated to develop a complete information system to meet requirements specifications.
- ❖ How an information system is documented.